SEWERAGE QUESTION

Aldermen Have Rescinded Approval of Plans and Specifications Recently Made.

BOARD MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Mayor Pro Tem. VonGlahn Presided—Appropriation for New Fire Horses. Fifth Street Bridge—Monthly Reports Received.

By a vote of six to two the Board of Aldermen in regular monthly meeting last night decided to rescind its action of May 8th in approving the plans and specifications of the Wilmingtan Sewerage Company for the construction of a system of sanitary sewerage in the city of Wilmington.

Although it is not anticipated by the Aldermen or the public that the action of the Board will retard the work of the Sewerage Company in the least, it is nevertheless an interesting step in the Aldermanic controversy that has been on since the company applied for permission to lay its system months ago.

The motion to rescind was made by Alderman E. P. Bailey, who gave notice some time ago that at the proper time he would move to reconsider. It was seconded by E. F. Johnson, who stated that he took pleasure in doing so and thought it entirely proper. Of course, the question was not without lengthy discussion, but the vote finally resulted as follows: Aye, Spencer, Sweeney, Harriss, Johnson, Parker and Bailey; nay, Maunder and Skinner.

The sewerage discussion was introduced by Mr. Sweeney, who called attention to the condition in which the streets were left after excavation by the sewerage contractors.

Mr. Harriss offered a remedy in a resolution which he presented, requiring the Wilmington Sewerage Company to execute a bond of $35,000 to indemnify the city against possibility of damage suits, and to guarantee to leave the streets in the same condition found; bond to be executed in ten days after approval by Board of Audit and Finance, and the mayor to stop all excavations if the bond is not given.

Mr. Bailey objected to the resolution on the ground that it was illegal in discriminating against one sewerage company as opposed to all others. He concluded his remarks with the motion to rescind, and, to use a trite expression, that brought on more talk.

Mr. Parker said it was time to let the Sewerage Company alone. The action to rescind, if necessary, should have been taken before. The work was then in shape that the Board had as well let them alone, though it was well enough to have the bond.

Mr. Harriss said that at the October meeting all necessary restrictions were put on the company for protection of everybody, the law only needed carrying out. Mr. Sweeney called for Mr. Bailey's motion and still more talk ensued. Mr. Bailey read his reasons for wanting to rescind as published long ago and supplemented them by saying that the laterals now being laid are too small in the opinion of nine-tenths of the plumbers.

Mr. Harriss asked as to the legal status of a rescinding motion and Mr. Bailey said that it was sound, the company had had the red flag of danger in its face ever since they started. City Attorney Bellamy, by request, gave his opinion that the Board could not impair the obligations of a contract previously made but that reasonable police rules and regulations could be imposed. Mr. Johnson claimed an infraction of the contract by the Sewerage Company in the matter of beginning excavations before October 1st. The vote was taken as stated above.

Mr. Harriss re-read his resolution and asked its passage.

City Attorney Bellamy, at request of Mr. Parker, stated that no legislation in the way of a bond could affect streets already torn up, but that the ordinance would cover excavations already made.

Mr. Sweeney said the ordinance on the books should be enforced and the proper authorities should see to it. Mr. Maunder said that the Superintendent of Streets should look after the matter.

The vote on Mr. Harriss' resolution was: Aye, Sweeney, Parker and Harriss; nay, Spencer, Maunder, Johnson, Bailey and Skinner—5 to 3.

Mr. Maunder said in the matter of Fifth street bridge the joint building of same was tied up on account of lack of funds, but that he thought time could be secured from bridge companies. He made a motion that it be recommended that the Aldermen and Board of Audit and Finance negotiate a loan for $4,500 for the building of the bridge and same was carried.

Mr. L. B. Rogers, of a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, asked for an appropriation for the building of a pavilion and other public conveniences for the use of excursionists who visit the city in Summer. Col. T. W. Clawson, of the committee, also spoke on the subject and suggested the building of a pavilion at Third and Market or Third and Princess streets.

Mr. Bailey thought pavilions for temporary use could be built on the plaza on Market street and water from an artesian well conveyed thither.

Upon motion of Mr. Harriss the Mayor appointed as a committee to confer with the Chamber of Commerce in this regard, Messrs. Harriss, Bailey and Sweeney.

Mr. T. S. McManus, manager of the Bell Telephone Co., asked for correction of an error in listing taxes of the company, which should have been listed by the Corporation Commission. The amount given in is $3,500, while the Commission lists it at $8,094. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Bailey again called attention to the insanitary condition of the docks along the wharf. The sewer pipes should be extended beyond the low water mark. He suggested that the docks be dredged out, the bulk heads repaired and some restrictions be placed on the penning of timber in them. The matter was left to the Streets and Wharves Committee.

Alderman Johnson called attention to the condition of Fifth, between Grace and Church streets, in front of Hemenway school, and the Streets and Wharves Committee was instructed to look into the matter; likewise corner of Ninth and Princess streets.

Upon motion of Mr. Harriss, the Mayor was empowered to sign agreement with property holders relative to paying their pro rata of Princess street paving.

Mr. Sweeney called attention to the bad condition of Red Cross, between Front and Fourth streets, but Mr. Maunder, acting chairman of the committee, said there was money enough to last only a month. Mr. Skinner said he hoped for more when the extent of tax collections became known.

Application of F. B. Brown for liquor license at Ninth and Bladen streets was granted, Alderman Johnson alone voting no. M. H. Croom was granted liquor license at the Bonitz House, No. 5 North Second street. Rosenmann & Aman were granted license at No. 5 Market street.

W. T. Parker requested use of foot of Davis street for wood yard, provided he fill in the same. The request was referred to the Streets and Wharves Committee.

Monthly reports of chiefs of fire and police departments, superintendent of health, city clerk and treasurer and others were read and approved.

A communication was read from the Board of Audit and Finance, stating that $12,131.65 alone remained to the credit of the Streets and Wharves Committee and all but $779.21 had already been appropriated.

Upon motion of Mr. Johnson it was ordered that the scavenger license be reduced from $50 to $25, payable quarterly in advance.

The Superintendent of Health was granted permission to be absent from the city two or three days; Dr. Russell to serve in his stead.

Under the head of the Light Committee, Mr. Bailey suggested that there should be a systematic inspection of lights, same to be made by the contractor.

Upon motion of Mr. Harriss $55 was appropriated for two horse collars, and $450 for two horses for Chemical engine, No. 1. The old horses are to be kept in reserve.

At the meeting last night Mayor pro tem. VonGlahn presided and rushed the business of the session through in a hurry, an adjournment having been reached at 10:30 o'clock. Present were Aldermen Harriss, Parker, Bailey, Johnson, Sweeney, Skinner, Maunder and Spencer.

AFFAIRS OF COUNTY.

Annual Meeting of the Board of Commissioners at the Court House Yesterday.

MR. M'EACHERN RE-ELECTED.

He Will Serve as Chairman for Ensuing Year—Large Number of Applications for Exemptions—Officers Renewed Their Bonds.

The annual meeting of the Board of County Commissioners was held yesterday afternoon, Chairman McEachern and all members present. Features of the meeting were the renewal of bonds of all county officers, the re-election of Mr. D. McEachern as chairman, the receiving of annual reports and the award of yearly contracts for county supplies.

The board met at 2:30 P. M. and was in continuous session until nearly 7 o'clock.

Commissioner Montgomery, of a special committee, reported needed repairs to the heating appliances for the insane ward at the County Home. After transaction of other routine business incident to the last meeting of the old board, Commissioner Holmes moved to reorganize for the new year and nominated Chairman D. McEachern for re-election. It is a handsome compliment to his past faithful service to say that his re-election was unanimous by acclamation.

County officers renewed their bonds for the ensuing fiscal year as follows: Frank H. Stedman, sheriff, in the sum of $5,000 for service of processes with Jno. S. Armstrong, C. W. Yates, J. A. Springer, M. J. Corbett and J. C. Stevenson as sureties, each of whom justified in the sum of $20,000, except Messrs. Yates and Armstrong, who justified in the sum of $35,000; for tax collections, $35,000 with same sureties and justification; for county poor, school and special taxes, $50,000, same sureties and justification.

M. G. Chadwick, keeper of County Home, $1,000; sureties, Geo. H. Heyer, I. J. Bear and M. Newman; justification, $350 each.

The following yearly awards of contracts for county supplies were made: W. W. King, for burying out-door poor at $2 each, Preston Cumming as surety; J. A. Springer, for coal for County Home, $9.20 for anthracite and $8 10 for bituminous; J. H. Taylor, agent, for coal for Court House and jail, $6.75 for anthracite and $5.25 for bituminous; Geo. Honnett, for caring for county clock, $39.50 per year. Other bids for the latter service were received from V. E. Zoeller & Co., $48, and G. C. Simmons, $40.50.

The chairman and Commissioner Alexander were requested to decide upon the matter of repairing the county fence.

Ordered that J. H. Chadbourn, Jr., be rebated tax on ten shares Atlantic National Bank stock, same having been property of J. W. Morris, of Goldsboro, and listed here through error; that proposed abatement of tax on Bell Telephone Company be referred to chairman and county attorney for investigation; that contract for grading and filling in at a point near Gordon siding be awarded to T. A. Watson at 8 cents per cubic yard; that property of W. W. Smith be valued at $350 in Harnett township on account of error in transcribing; that communication of J. W. Norwood relative to an abatement of $45 income tax be referred to Chairman and County Attorney. Mr. Norwood states that he did not list the tax and was in good faith a non resident of the State.

The sheriff submitted a statement of annual collections of Schedule B tax and same was referred to the Auditing Committee.

Action of the chairman in agreeing to pay pro rata share of paving on Princess street adjoining county property, was endorsed.

Taxes paid on $200 valuation in 1899 and 1900 through error by estate of A. B. George was ordered refunded.

Application for exemption of poll tax was allowed to J. M. Bryan, Harnett township, and J. R. Williams, colored of Wilmington township, on account of physical disability; denied to Joe E. King and W. J. Newton, Wilmington township, and R. J. Padrick, Masonboro township. Doubly listed poll tax of Elijah Walton was ordered paid in Wilmington township.

The monthly and annual reports of the Register of Deeds, Superintendent of Health, and Road Superintendent were read and ordered on file. Application of Etta Gorman for relief was referred to Associated Charities. A special committee consisting of Messrs Montgomery and Vollers reported adversely on application of New Hanover Land Improvement Co., for reduction of tax valuation.

Annual Report of Treasurer.

The annual report of County Treasurer Green for the past fiscal year was received, and shows a balance on hand December 1st, 1901 of $22,272.15; property tax, $31,743.37; schedule B tax, $5,373.98; back taxes, $2,040.14; jury tax, $33.15; marriage license, $221.35; rents, $186.71; vouchers from Board of Education, $50.00. The total is $61,920.85, and from this amount warrants were paid amounting to $43,471.22; treasurer's commissions, $1,038.91; balance on hand, $17,410.72. Of the special fund there was left on hand $1,713.66; special tax for 1900, $2,569.38. Coupons were paid amounting to $2,380.00, treasurer's commissions, $61.86, leaving a balance on hand of $1,841.18.

Annual Report of the Chairman.

Just before the old board resolved itself into the new, Chairman McEachern read his annual report as follows:

Gentlemen—Herewith I hand you itemized statement of expenditures for the year. You will note increased expenditure under several heads, but the increase in total Criminal and Superior Court is one we did not contemplate and over which we have little control. 'Tis true the increase of $2,313.03 above last year can to a certain extent be accounted for, by failure to have several terms of Criminal Court last year, owing to sickness and death of Judges for this district, but we are confronted with an increase over 1900 expenses of $1,342.34, which causes us to doubt if the changes made by the General Assembly in 1901 are economical for our county. The increase in expenses of maintaining public buildings of $1,526.43 is for repairs to court house and jail which were absolutely necessary and we will have further expense in connection with the foundation wall on the north side of the court house. The increase in expenditure on roads and bridges was contemplated and our only regret is that through carelessness in passing our bond act at Raleigh, we have not had more funds available. As it now stands we have had the matter sent to the Supreme Court for their opinion and though the case was argued in September we still have no decision from them and unless received soon, we will be seriously handicapped in our work. Of the increase in road work of the total expenditure of $13,551.17, $1,514.08 was spent under direction of the superintendent of roads for labor and bridges elsewhere than on permanent road. Of the balance we have in the nature of permanent investments that will be used while road building is continued machinery, $2,492.65; bin for rock, $373.31; tools, $101.79; mules, carts and harness, $1,117.60; expenses paid in connection with bond issue, $127.53; total, including superintendent of roads expenditures, $5,636.95, leaving $7,924.22 expended in building permanent roads for which we have built four miles of road this year at an average cost per mile of $1,981.05½.

We note recommendations of the grand jury relative to padded cell in the jail for insane. This we think would not only be inconvenient, but decidedly more expensive than to have some of its cells in the insane ward of the County Home prepared for this purpose and would recommend this as a substitute for the jail.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY J. COOPER.

Gattis-Kilgo Case.

The jury in the Gattis-Kilgo case at Oxford Saturday midnight brought in a verdict awarding plaintiff $15,000 against Dr. Kilgo and B. N. Duke, W. R. Odell being adjudged free from malice in his connection with the controversy. All the issues with the Odell exception were answered yes. The defendants appealed. Bond to stay execution in the amount of twenty thousand dollars was fixed by the judge. Two jurors were in favor of a verdict for $50,000, one for $35,000, one for $25,000, one for $20,000, four for $15,000, one for $10,000, one for $1.00 and one for five cents. The average was $20,800, and the $15,000 verdict was taken as a compromise. The delay on the third count was that the jury stood ten to two and finally the two agreed.

Sewerage Contractors in Court.

G. W. Mooney, foreman for the sewerage contractors, plead guilty to a violation of the excavation ordinance through his counsel, Judge E. K. Bryan, before Mayor pro tem VonGlahn yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in the municipal court. He was fined $20 and required to pay costs although counsel asked for a suspension of judgment upon payment of costs. Mayor VonGlahn construed the ordinance to mean that discretion was left the court as to the penalty for violation is specific with no alternative. Superintendent [illegible] was discharged as it was shown [illegible] were for a strict compliance with the regulation. City Attorney Bellamy prosecuted the case.

A LODGE OF SORROW.

Beautiful and Tender Memorial Services by Wilmington Elks Sunday Afternoon.

ORATION BY F. HARPER, ESQ.

Musical Programme Splendid and Address Eloquent and Appropriate — Presented by H. McClammy, Esq., Who Paid Merited Tribute.

The Elks' Memorial service in the Opera House Sunday afternoon was very largely attended and was entirely in keeping with the beautiful sentiment that prompted the custom which has been simultaneously observed by Elk lodges everywhere on the first Sunday in December for many years.

The building was superbly decorated for the occasion with plants and flowers, deftly arranged by Mr. C. F. W. Rehder, the florist, and the musical programme was of an exceedingly high order of excellence. The selection by the orchestra, the musical numbers by the Munson quartette and the beautiful solo artistically rendered by Mrs. E. K. Bryan were all in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. The lodge exercises presided over by Dr. Charles T. Harper, the Exalted Ruler, were impressive and strongly indicative of the noble principles of Elkdom all over the world.

The decided feature of the programme was the oration of the day by Wilmington's distinguished son, Fred Harper, Esq., now of Lynchburg, Va., and a member of the well known legal firm of Daniel & Harper. The delivery of the address was eloquent, the subject matter appropriate and pleasing, and the environment everything that could be desired for an occasion of the character described.

Herbert McClammy, Esq., of Wilmington, in presenting Mr. Harper gave beautiful expression, to the spirit of the hour, when he said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen—It is the custom of the Order of Elks that on the first Sunday in December of each year, Memorial exercises be held in honor of our dead.

"The honor conferred upon the orator of this occasion is one to be appreciated by him, and is to us a pleasure that it is so worthily bestowed. It is too, a fitting time for such expression. It is the recognition of true merit and real worth. It is the kindling in the hearts of all his friends, young and old, the admiration that justly belongs to merited ability.

"Having achieved success in other States as well as his own, we invite him here on this occasion to do honor to our Lodge, and welcome him to the home of his birth, the place of his nativity.

"I now present to you the orator of the day—Frederick Harper, of North Carolina, now of Virginia."

The Memorial Service Committee for 1901 did well its work and deserves unbounded praise. It was composed as follows: Messrs. W. F. Robertson, (chairman) L. Stein, Warren S. Johnson, Jack Bellamy and I. W. Solomon.

DEATH OF AN ESTIMABLE WOMAN.

Miss Margaret Jones Passed Away at Her Home Yesterday Morning.

Genuine regret was expressed by a large number of friends yesterday at the announcement of the death of Miss Margaret Jones, which occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carrie Moffitt, No. 205 South Second street, at 10:15 o'clock A. M.

Miss Jones had been in ill health for several months, but her death was unexpected. She was a daughter of the late Wm. B. and Caroline Jones, and was a lady of charming personality and many admirable traits of Christian character. Much of her life was devoted to teaching, and none love her more than former pupils with whom she was in constant association in the school room. For several years she was principal of the Union Annex of the Wilmington public schools, and reluctantly retired from a work to which she was much devoted by reason of her failing health. She was a consistent member of the First Presbyterian Church for many years, and was kind and generous to a fault.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Carrie Moffitt and a neice and a nephew, Miss Margaret Moffitt and Mr. Alf. Moffitt, all of this city. The bereaved family has the sympathy of many friends. The funeral will be conducted at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence.

An election of directors resulted in the choice of the following: C. W. Worth, D. L. Gore, J. A. Taylor, J. A. Arringdale and S. P. McNair.

The company is made up of Wilmington merchants, who will operate the line for mutual benefit in the way of freight rates, and parties in New York, whose names are not yet furnished for publication. The stock is owned one-half in each city, but the amount of capital is likewise withheld.

The Morning Star.

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 3.

"FORGING AHEAD TOO FAST."

The New York Herald of Friday contains an interesting cable letter from its Berlin correspondent on the industrial depression in Germany and its causes, upon which the Herald makes the following editorial comment, which we clip because it presents an object lesson and a warning. It says:

"It is a gloomy picture, the one our Berlin correspondent draws this morning.

"Eighteen months ago, as he remarks, trade of all kinds in Germany was flourishing; the Berlin Boerse presented a scene of almost unparalleled animation; banks were compelled to enlarge their premises in order to handle the enormous increase of business, while wages were high and work was plentiful.

"To-day the pendulum has swung to the opposite extreme. Trade has come to virtual standstill, the Boerse is lifeless, the banking business is stagnant, shipping has dwindled in volume, and it is said that in Berlin alone there are thirty-five thousand men out of employment.

"According to the opinions collected by the Herald's correspondent, overspeculation, particularly in electric shares, has been the main factor in bringing about this 'slump.' Such a view, however, is obviously but superficial. The causes undoubtedly lie much deeper than in even wildest 'plunging' in any form of stocks.

"The plain fact is, Germany forged ahead too fast. She tried to run while still in her walking age and is now paying the penalty.

"Under the prudent, far seeing guidance of Prince Bismarck the work of solidifying the bases of the newly federated empire after the war of 1870 was pursued slowly and methodically. Home industries were built up, the carrying trades were developed, foreign outlets for German products were sought and acquired, and the people were led from triumph to triumph.

"Then the master architect was dismissed before his undertaking was achieved, and a spirit of reckless overconfidence dominated where one of wisdom and judicious fore-thought had ruled in the early period of the empire's existence.

"A crash was inevitable, and it has come in the form of an acute agricultural, industrial and economic crisis, to deal with which even all Bismarck's statesmanship and resourcefulness would not have been too much. The check to Germany's progress, in fact, is derived not from frantic "plunging" in this, that or the other species of security, but from mistaken views on the subject of a "Welt Politik" while far more pressing questions are being neglected at home.

In familiar but vividly graphic American phrase, Germany' presiding genius 'has bitten off more than he can chew,' and his people are now feeling the effects."

"Forged ahead too fast," Got the craze to become rich at a jump, went it blind and landed in the ditch, out of which it may take them a good while to scramble. There are to-day in Germany twice as many idle workmen, men who to feed themselves and their families depend upon their daily earnings for their daily bread, as there were twelve months ago. Thirty-five thousand workmen are idle in Berlin, and Berlin is but one of the cities in which thousands are idle, and at a time of the year, too, when the idle and the poor suffer most.

Now for the object lesson. To promote manufacturing enterprises the policy of protection was adopted and the stimulated manufactures grew. They sprang up in a day as it were, for twenty years ago Germany cut a very small figure as a manufacturing nation. With a sagacity that does the Germans credit they reasoned that when they had entered foreign markets with their goods to compete with other manufacturing nations they must, to win success in those markets and hold them, make a class of goods that would, by their merits, attract purchasers, and, therefore, they wisely began, and followed up the establishment of technical schools to train labor to the skill requisite to make superior goods and to make them economically. They succeeded in that until Germany became noted for its skilled labor, that turned out goods that took a front rank in all the markets, and the label "made in Germany" became a favorable recommendation everywhere. Germany was becoming commercially a world power, was becoming rich, and might have continued to grow richer if folly had not taken the place of thrift and prudence and patient industry.

But the protective tariff which stimulated, and over stimulated, the manufacturing industries did something else besides that—it stimulated the organization of trusts. They call them syndicates or corporations over there. These trusts cornered the raw material the manufacturers needed. The manufacturers competing with each other rushed things until they overstocked the the home market and foreign markets became a necessity. They got along very well in these until confronted by American competition supplementing British competition, they were compelled to cut prices, making the profit margin small. Many of these manufacturing companies were operating on borrowed capital, and sales became necessary, even at small or no profit, to meet their obligations. Then the trusts, which had cornered the raw materials, ran up prices on them, and the result was no profit at all and ruin. The favoring legislation which had fostered the manufactories brought into existence the trusts that helped to crush them.

The Herald's correspondent attributes the business depression which now spreads its dark pall over Germany to wild and reckless speculation in stocks, which amounted to a veritable craze, especially copper and electric stocks—from which, so to express it, Germany got some terrible electric shocks—but the manufactories might have weathered through this if the insatiable trusts hadn't squeezed them so hard in their day of trial and need.

Isn't there an object lesson and a warning in all this for the American manufacturers who are now striving so hard for world markets, and for the statesmen who have the shaping of our public policies? German statesmen adopted the protective tariff policy to stimulate manufactures. It did it, stimulated too much until the result was over-production for the home market, making foreign markets a necessity and making it necessary for Germans to compete against Germans, not only in the home but in the foreign markets. It is said that compelled by necessity to meet obligations, they sold goods in foreign markets for less money than they sold them at home, as some of our protected manufacturers are doing, and sometimes at less than cost, as some of our protected manufacturers say they sometimes do to meet foreign competition and work off their surplus. This is the reason they give to account for charging foreign purchasers less than they charge the home purchaser.

Our high tariff, prohibitory protection stimulated manufactures, until the home market became overstocked and foreign markets became a necessity, and now even with the foreign markets that have been secured and those that are in prospect, they clamor for continued protection against the manufacturers who are suffering from similar protection to protect them from disaster and ruin after they have become strong enough to hold their own against the world.

Less protection, less forcing of the plant would have been better for Germany in the end, and less protection, less coddling of our "infant" industries would have been better for them and for this country in the end. The cause has produced its effect in Germany, and the same cause will produce a similar effect in this country, unless we be warned by Germany's sad plight undo some of the mischief we have done, stop to think, go slow and not try to achieve in a day what could be better and more lastingly done in many days. Germany aspired to become a world-power commercially and politically, just as we are aspiring, went at it too brashly and is paying the penalty in reverses and industrial depression, from which millions suffer.

The slow but sure policy is not so attractive to the rusher, who would grasp the world and capture it in a day; but it is the better policy in the long run.

THE BEET SUGAR CROP.

Under the stimulus of governmental paternalism the beet sugar industry of European countries has grown until the manufacturers have overcropped themselves and prices have gone down to where there is little profit in it. A conservative estimate of this year's crops by a German statistician puts the production for Germany at 1,979,098 tons; for Austria, 1,094,043 tons; for France, 1,070,332 tons; for Russia, 920,000 tons; for Belgium, 340,000 tons; for Holland, 178,080 tons; for other European countries, 387,450 tons—an increase in the aggregate of 500 tons over last year. Some estimates are higher. With the production of the United States, which is increasing, the total output is estimated at 6,600,000 tons.

In addition to this there is the cane crop of Cuba, this and other countries, which ought to and would make sugar cheap for the people of this country if it were not for the tariff duties, which make imported sugar high—about $50,000,000 a year higher than it would be if there were no tariff duties.

Foreign sugar is taxed ostensibly to foster the beet sugar industry of this country and the beet sugar men say it will be necessary to give them this tariff protection for ten years more, by which time they say we can produce beet sugar enough to supply the home demand, which means, in other words, that the people of the United States will be taxed at the rate of $50,000,000 a year, for ten years, or $500,000,000, to foster an industry concerning the growth of which it is altogether a matter of speculation, for at the end of ten years it may not produce half enough sugar to supthe demand for home consumption. To foster it we must keep out European and Cuban sugars, and continue to pay enormous tribute to the Sugar Trust and to the beet sugar manufacturers.

Senator Tillman struck the true inwardness of Republican reciprocity when he said "every fellow is in favor of reciprocity that affects the other man's products and leaves his alone. It is the old game of grab."

RESOLUTIONS IN THE CAUCUS.

There were five resolutions bearing upon national policies offered in the Democratic caucus of the members of the House of Representatives which met in Washington Saturday. The first was on the tariff, protesting against the Republican policy of high, and in some instances practically prohibitive duties, as both unnecessary and oppressive on the people in the interests of the few, and pledging the members to support measures to reduce the tariff on articles which are sold at a lower price abroad than at home, and also to favor reciprocity treaties which will reduce, if they do not altogether remove, the oppressive burdens on the people.

The second favors just and generous treatment of the inhabitants of Cuba and of Porto Rico, the complete fulfilment of our pledges to them and the largest practical liberty of commercial intercourse with us.

The third opposes subsidies in any shape by which the people will be taxed to build and run ships for the benefit of private individuals.

The fourth protests against the establishment of a colonial system in the Philippines and demands that when those people are fitted for self government they be granted all the rights and privileges of self rule granted to the people of any of our other territories.

This resolution caused a racket, but why it should is not apparent, as it is in line with Democratic principles and with Democratic utterances all along, ever since the Philippine question became a question, and is substantially what the Republicans themselves declare that they intend to do. This resolution is so broad, so elastic and so non-committal as to time that we don't see where there was any ground to quarrel over it.

The fifth was a declaration in favor of the single gold standard and a protest against any further agitation of the silver question, its author, Mr. Fitzgerald, of New York, asserting that this question had been settled by the people in two elections, when they declared for the gold standard. This is not strictly true, because there were other issues in both of these elections, and in the latter the silver question figured but little. And we know, too, that millions of dollars were expended in both of those elections by the Republican machine managers. But if it were true, Mr. Fitzgerald was inconsistent in the reason assigned for dropping that question and endorsing the gold standard. Haven't we been opposing the high protective tariff year after year, despite the Republican victories at the polls, and the claim of the Republicans that this policy had been repeatedly endorsed by the people? To be consistent, Mr. Fitzgerald should also have opposed the agitation of the tariff question. But there was no need for any resolution of that kind, as there is little probability of the silver question being an issue in the next campaign. In the interest of harmony these resolutions went over and were referred to a committee, to report at a subsequent caucus to be held January 11th.

—— It seems that Mr. Gerry, the fussy old man who has been so persistent in preventing children from making a living on the stage, has been using a "burr bit" on his horses. —— Col. Lynch, who has been elected to Parliament from Galway, is likely to be the center of a lively little storm before a great while. His friends say he will surely present himself and claim his seat. —— Republicans are again warning us to be careful lest our prosperity fail. What kind of a good is this with so short a string attached? Democrats gave a prosperity that lasted fifty years on a stretch, and Cleveland was preparing the foundation for one to endure for a century, when these Republicans got in the way and dumped the cart. If they can only prescribe for temporary ills, why not call in the old doctor and send the young failure about his business? To practice on infant industries for thirty years only to leave them still crying for milk in the cradle is no proof of sound treatment.—Jacksonville Times-Union, Dem.

NEW WINDOW SASH.

Should Prove a Boon For the Order Loving Housewife.

The windows with which most of us are familiar have often enough been condemned for the reason that the cleaning of the outer surface of the glass is attended with not a little danger. A recently patented invention which has been acquired by Mr. Arthur Hoyt Bogue of New York seeks to overcome this difficulty in a manner which is both ingenious and simple, says The Scientific American.

The sashes in Mr. Bogue's window run in vertical grooves in the window casing and are provided with the usual pulleys and weights. Each groove of the lower sash, however, has a curved branch groove leading to the groove of the upper sash. Horizontal grooves bisect the two vertical grooves, and by these horizontal grooves pins projecting from the lower sash are guided.

By reason of this arrangement of grooves the lower sash can be moved in the branch groove directly in alignment with the upper sash, thereby closing the window far more tightly than is possible with the ordinary sashes. But if the lower sash be moved down to the end of its vertical groove a horizontal space is left between the upper and lower sashes for ventilating purposes. If this space be not large enough, the sashes can be raised and lowered in the usual manner.

In the lower end of each groove of the upper sash a pin is located, which is received in the curved recess of a plate carried on the lower end of the lower sash. Thus the lower sash, when depressed, is pivotally mounted, so that it can be swung inwardly in the manner shown in our engraving through an arc of ninety degrees. When the sash is thus swung inwardly, the window can be safely cleaned.

Cure Insomnia by Machinery.

An odd device designed to cure insomnia is called the "fascinator." It consists of a helmet, which is fastened about the head by two straps buckling in the back. Across the forehead rests a band of flat steel, from the center of which projects a steel tube, into the end of which is inserted a flexible steel wire tipped with a glistening nickel plated ball about the size of a grape. By bending the wire the ball may be adjusted at any angle desired and extremely close to the eyes. With this apparatus in place the patient lies down and fixes his gaze on the ball. This fixed gaze fatigues the eyelids, and in a few minutes a sound sleep is produced.

Latest Scheme For Fire Fighting.

The head of the fire department of Rouen has suggested to the mayor a novel project in the fire extinguishing service. Inasmuch as this city is traversed everywhere by electric street car wires, it is suggested there should be provided pumps, driven by dynamos, to take currents by means of a trolley hooked to the street car wires at the nearest point to the fire. If this is favorably acted upon, as seems likely, Rouen will be equal, if not superior, to any European city in the efficiency of its fire service.

Novel Use For Wine.

Viticulturists in France have just tried experiments in feeding draft animals with bran mixed with wine, which seem to be successful. It appears that poor wine can be used to replace oats as food, weight for weight—a pound of wine for a pound of oats. At least half of the usual feed of grain can be replaced in this manner without disadvantage to the animals. Barley, beans, bran and the like, mixed with wine, can be substituted for oats entirely if desired, it is said.

Perpetual Youth.

Professor Gautier, a distinguished member of the Institut de France, has advanced a startling theory on the subject of "perpetual youth." In isolating the bacteria of physical fatigue he has found that it is a poison strongly resembling ptomaine poison in nature. From this Professor Gautier concludes that fatigue can, by the use of disinfectants, be avoided like any other poison, and consequently man, no longer suffering from wear and tear, need not weaken or age.

Cooling Water Without Ice.

An inventor, Joseph E. Swenderman of Boston, has patented an apparatus for cooling water, the idea of which he appears to have borrowed from the Mexican practice of putting water in a bottle attached to a line and swinging it around the head rapidly to reduce its temperature. Swenderman's device is a mechanical application of the same principle to a continuously flowing stream of water.

Good breeding is the result of too much good sense, some good nature and a little self denial for the sake of others.—Chesterfield.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The cotton market opened steady with prices unchanged to two points higher and for the rest of the day followed an unusually narrow course with the room trade given over almost entirely to straightening up straggling accounts preparatory to the receipt of the Bureau report to-morrow. Commission houses sold a little of their long cotton on an advance of two to four points which occurred later in the morning. Earlier cables were a trifle steadier than expected, but after our opening Liverpool followed every change of two points here and gave over the leadership to the local trade. The weather South was generally fair and cold, except in the central section, where light to hard rains have fallen; trade reports were of bullish average, notably those from Manchester and the South. Southern spot markets were steady to firm at full former prices on active export and increased domestic demand. Clearances for export far exceed the total port receipts, thus causing a sharp decrease in total port stocks. The estimates for to-morrow's receipts at New Orleans and Houston were larger than expected, but this fact failed in any way to affect the afternoon market which ruled very steady at near top prices for the day. Wall street and the South were buyers all the last hour and smaller shorts absorbed the offerings of profit seekers. The close was quiet and steady with prices two points lower on September, but two to four points higher on other options.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

A NEW THING IN APPLES.

Newtown Pippin Crossbred Apples. Remarkable and Very Promising.

The new seedling apples shown in an engraving from American Agriculturist mark an epoch making event of unusual importance in American pomology. They were selected as typical specimens from a collection of some 20 varieties exhibited by Mr. S. W. Underhill at the recent annual meeting of the Eastern New York Horticultural society.

The journal mentioned says:

For 50 years or more the best and most attractive Newtown Pippins grown in America came from Croton Point, and brought almost fabulous prices in England, one shipment clearing as high as $18 per barrel. Some 12 or 15 years ago Mr. Underhill noticed that the constitutional vigor of his trees was waning, and he concluded that the only way to perpetuate the excellencies of the Newtown was by reproduction from seed. Out of hundreds of barrels he selected a peck of the most perfect specimens, and from the seeds of these he raised a considerable number of seedlings. In addition to this he grafted in the tops of some Newtown trees Northern Spy, Rhode Island Greening, Russet and other varieties. These different kinds were allowed to grow together and cross fertilize naturally. In other cases artificial cross pollination was practiced.

NEWTOWN PIPPIN CROSSBRED APPLES.

Contrary to the theory held by many that cross pollination has no direct influence on the fruit, but only on its seed, Mr. Underhill soon noticed that some of the Newtowns had clearly marked characteristics of Northern Spy, others of Rhode Island Greening and still others of Russet. The seeds of these characteristic specimens were planted in nursery rows, where they were left to grow without any special care. Finally they were planted out in poor, sandy land and left to themselves. Two years ago several of them produced their first fruit, and the specimens illustrated herewith are from the second crop.

The specimen on the left hand side in the picture is Newtown Pippin-Greening, a large, roundish apple, dull green, core fairly open, like Greening; aromatic and subacid, flesh fairly fine textured and quality good. The fruit to the right is Newtown Pippin-Northern Spy. It resembles Northern Spy quite closely, though not as angular and lacking its sprightly acidity. The top specimen is Newtown-English Russet. It closely resembles Golden Russet, but is slightly smaller, with flesh fine grained, mild, almost sweet, and quality very good.

All of them and most of the other varieties exhibited are excellent keepers. It is this remarkable keeping quality, combined with attractive appearance, good quality and size, which argues so favorably for the success of these promising varieties.

Recent Good Geraniums.

Geranium Alphonse Ricard, scarlet, of a slightly different shade from the well known double General Grant, stands the sun with me remarkably well, with immense trusses much larger than double General Grant.

Beauty de Poitevine, salmon pink, shading out lighter, stands completely alone in its class.

Mme. Jauline, white, with a pink center.

Countess de Castris, a bright clear cut pink, as much of an advance over other pinks as electric lights are ahead of tallow dips.

Mme. Buchner, pure white.

All of the above named are of comparatively recent introduction, but all have proved decided acquisitions.

I should have mentioned that all are double or semidouble. The single geraniums do not hold their flowers so well, especially when there is much of a wind, the petals falling very easily, leaving the green calyx standing up very unsightly in the middle.—F. C. Goble Before New Jersey Horticultural Society.

A Good Begonia.

We would put in a word for Begonia weltoniensis, that useful hybrid of unknown origin, says a writer in American Gardening. Why have our gardeners discarded this charming variety? Its foliage and stem are exquisite in themselves, while its flowers are not equaled by those of Gloire de Lorraine. It can also be bedded out to advantage in favored locations where it only gets the afternoon sun and where the soil is tolerably moist. We look for a revival of interest in these once popular greenhouse plants and stand ready to welcome it.

A "Double Faced" Kitchen Table.

A clever housewife has devised a kitchen table which she finds most serviceable, especially in a small room. She had a carpenter make a second top for the ordinary table and had it fitted on to that with hinges at the back. This top shuts down tightly over the table and is used for the daily service, but when bread or pastry is to be made it is raised, and a fresh pine surface never used for anything else is ready.

Hints For Toilet Table.

Soften the water you use for washing your face and hands by a half cupful of solution of borax, made by dissolving a half pound of borax in a gallon of water. This may be diluted at will. Keep a bottle of the borax water on the washstand ready for constant use. Be sure to get refined, powdered borax of good quality for this purpose. There is much stuff sold as borax which has no right to the name.

How to Make Frozen Tomato Sauce.

Peel and chop rather fine half a dozen ripe, solid tomatoes; season with salt, white pepper, a tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar and a tablespoonful of some hot meat sauce, such as worcestershire. Freeze the pulp solid in an ice cream freezer. When hard, pack in fancy molds like tomatoes, pears or apples and let stand two hours in salt and ice; then turn on crisp lettuce leaves. Serve with a spoonful of mayonnaise.

A Flesh and Blood Mathias.

A remarkable incident is reported from the Tyrol. A well to do peasant of Beherwien has just died, leaving his known fortune of about 9,600 florins to the parish priest of Ehrwald to build a church. In his will was a curious codicil providing that "in the event of any residuary property being discovered it should go to the cure of Beherwien, for purposes known to himself." In consequence of this provision the dead man's house was thoroughly searched, and in a cellar there was discovered a sum of 100,000 florins, which nothing in the dead man's family relationships, individual circumstances or business operations had even led his neighbors to suppose that he possessed.

It is now recalled that some 12 years ago a wealthy merchant was robbed and murdered between Beherwien and Ehrwald without anybody even being made amenable for the crime, and people are beginning to ask whether here at last is the clew to a mystery not unsimilar in some of its details to the romance of "The Polish Jew."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Pulling an Ear.

"The German emperor," says a French paper, "when in any way crossed or contradicted pulls violently at the lobe of his right ear with the thumb and forefinger of his right hand. When he was staying in England at the time of the queen's funeral, he received a telegram and opened it in the presence of one of his smart little nephews, a boy of 6. Something in the telegram did not altogether please his majesty, and he at once began to tug at his ear.

"The little fellow looked up an said, 'Tell me, uncle, why do you pull your ear?'

"'Because I am annoyed, my darling,' was the reply.

"'Do you always do that when you are annoyed?' said the boy.

"'Yes, my darling,' said his majesty.

"'And when you are very, very much annoyed what do you do?' persisted his juvenile inquirer.

"'Then I pull somebody else's ear,' said William II."

New Orleans Is Big.

It is not generally known that, excepting New York, and that only since it has become Greater New York, New Orleans is territorially the largest city in the world. On the contrary, old London is one of the smallest and in area not so great as many of our pretentious little American villages. The city of London proper contains but 31 acres more than a square mile. The territory, however, which is commonly known as London is what is comprehended in this country of that name. Even this vast area, containing the immense population of 4,500,000 souls, is only three-fifths the size of New Orleans. Chicagoans think their city very great and very large, but the difference in size in favor of New Orleans is large enough to contain 5¾ cities as large as London proper.—New York Times.

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the story which able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 3.

CONTINUATION OF THE TRIAL OF MRS. BONINE.

Witnesses for Defence Called—To Show That Mrs. Bonine Was Not Particularly Partial to Ayres.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—In the case of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, indicted for the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., witnesses for the defence were introduced to-day. In all fifteen witnesses were called, and it soon developed that the line of examination would be in the nature of showing that Mrs. Bonine evidenced no particular partiality toward Ayres; that her conduct and bearing towards him differed in no respects from that displayed toward other guests of the hotel.

The first witness called was William C. Hay, who, with his family, lived at the Kenmore at the time of the tragedy. He testified that the dances at the Kenmore were usually arranged by Mrs. Bonine, and that her bearing toward Ayres was nothing out of the ordinary. It had been her habit, he said, when the dancers were not prompt in attendance, to go to their rooms and urge them to come down. He stated on cross-examination that he understood it had been Mrs. Bonine's intention to leave the hotel, but after the tragedy he had advised her it would be improper to do so until the affair was cleared up.

George B. Gardner, assistant attorney in the interior department, to whom Mrs. Bonine first told her story and who also was a government witness, testified that on that night he had seen Mrs. Bonine and Ayres dancing together and had observed nothing unusual in their conduct.

The case will be resumed to morrow.

NORFOLK AND WESTERN CO.

Has Concluded a Deal for the Acquisition of the Great Pocahontas Coal and Coke Company.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The Herald to-morrow will say that announcement will soon be made by the Norfolk & Western railroad that its management has concluded a deal for the acquisition of the Pocahontas Coal and Coke Company, the recently formed $40,000,000 combination owning extensive bituminous coal lands in Virginia, along the line of the railroad. It is stated that only a few details remain to be arranged before an official announcement will be made.

Through a projected subsidiary company the Norfolk & Western will then control over 300,000 acres of coal lands. Approximately over $20,000,000 will be involved in the deal, which it is proposed to cover with a bond issue to that amount by the railroad.

The Pocahontas Company was formed in October, and included in its projectors several of the United States Steel Corporation officers.

A FLORIDA TRAGEDY.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

KISSIMMEE, FLA., Dec. 2.—Miss Belle Steffo was shot and instantly killed this afternoon at her home on Springle Creek, about three miles from here, and Harry Kindall is probably mortally wounded. He was starting hunting and, it is supposed, shot Miss Steffo accidentally and then attempted to commit suicide. He was found speechless, but when handed pencil and paper wrote that he wanted to pass out of the world as quickly as possible. They were second cousins and the best of friends. Kindall has recently returned from the Philippines.

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 2.—A full agreement has been reached between Denmark and the United States for the sale of the Danish West Indies. The treaty will probably be signed this week at Washington. The price fixed is between four and five million dollars.

The questions of free trade and citizenship will be decided by Congress, which, it is believed, will grant the concessions.

BOTH HOUSES MET AND ORGANIZED.

The Opening Session of the Senate Was Decidedly Brief and Formal.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Speaker Henderson Sworn In—Rules of the Last House Adopted—Seat Drawing—Contested Election Cases Resolutions Offered.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—To-day's session of the Senate was brief and formal. Precisely at 12 o'clock Mr. Frye, of Maine, president pro tem. of the Senate, entered the chamber, ascended to the desk of the presiding officer and rapped for order.

The blind chaplain of the Senate, Rev. William Milburn, then delivered his invocation. The roll call of Senators developed the presence of seventy-one members. Mr. Keen announced that his colleague, Mr. Sewell, of New Jersey, was detained from the chamber by illness.

Mr. Allison, Iowa, presented the credentials of Charles H. Dietrich and Jos. H. Millard, of Nebraska; Mr. Gamble of South Dakota, presented those of his new colleague, Alfred B. Kittridge, appointed to succeed the late Senator Kyle, and Mr. Clark, Montana, offered those of his colleague, Paris Gibson. The new Senators were then sworn in.

Senator McLaurin, South Carolina, offered a joint resolution authorizing the admission free of duty on imports of articles intended to be exhibited at the Charleston Exposition and the transfer of the government exhibit at the Buffalo Exposition to the Charleston Exposition.

Mr. Hoar objected to the immediate consideration of the resolution on the ground that it was the universal practice of the Senate to transact no business until the President has been informed that Congress was prepared to do business. The resolution was withdrawn temporarily.

At 12:15 the Senate took a recess to afford the committee appointed to wait upon the President an opportunity to perform its duty.

When the Senate re-convened Mr. Gamble, South Dakota, formally announced the death of Senator Kyle, of that State.

He offered the usual resolution and the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—The opening day of the first session of the 57th Congress in the House of Representatives furnished a spectacle that delighted the crowded galleries. The machinery of the House is cumberous and is set in motion by a laborious process, but the spectators to-day evidently did not consider it tedious as they clung to their places through the entire proceeding which lasted four and one half hours, probably half the time being consumed in the monotonous calling of the roll. The organization of the House was accomplished according to the time honored precedents. Speaker Henderson was sworn in by Gen. Bingham, "the father of the House," and after delivering a very graceful speech in recognition of the honor bestowed upon him he in turn administered the oath to the members elect. The rules of the last House were adopted after a slight jar and then the biennial seat drawing occurred. This latter ceremony was robbed of much of its interest to-day by the fact that under the new arrangement of seats there are more than enough to go round and those whose names are drawn last do not suffer as they did on former occasions.

The Speaker assigned the contested election cases from Alabama, Kentucky and Missouri to Elections Committee No. 1; those from North Carolina, Ohio and South Carolina to Committee No. 2, and those from Virginia to Committee No. 3.

On motion of Mr. Elliott, South Carolina, a resolution was adopted to allow the importation, free of duty, of all articles from foreign countries and the transfer of foreign exhibits from the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo for the purpose of exhibition at the South Carolina Inter-State and West Indian Exposition at Charleston, S. C.

A joint resolution was introduced by Mr. Moody, of Massachusetts, proposing a select committee of three members, to be appointed by the Speaker, to investigate and report whether at the congressional election in Louisiana the rights of any of the male inhabitants of that State were abridged or denied; whether, if the right of any person to vote was denied or abridged, the members from Louisiana so chosen are entitled to their seats, and whether Congress should enact further legislation to carry out the 14th and 15th amendments to the United States constitution.

Three Thousand Bills.

It was estimated by officials of the House that over three thousand bills had been introduced before 12 o'clock to-day. There was the usual rivalry for the honor of having bill number one, no less than fifteen members having asked for this precedence with the indications that one of the bills restricting the sale of oleomargerine—either that of Mr. McCleary or of Mr. Tawney—would be so designated when the records were made up. The bills took a wide range, covering all those topics which have excited attention of late. Three Pacific cable bills, by Representative Sherman of New York, Corliss of Michigan and Jones of Washington, gave varying phases of the project, Mr. Jones proposing the Northern route via Puget Sound, with an appropriation of $8,000,000; Mr. Corliss proposing a government-built and maintained route, and Mr. Sherman offering the plan allowing private participation in the enterprise.

Among the other measures introduced were those by Mr. Sulzer, New York, protesting against the conduct of the war in South Africa; Mr. Kitchin, North Carolina, constitutional amendment repealing the fifteenth amendment; also, constitutional amendment forbidding appropriations for sectarian purposes; Mr. Overstreet, Indiana, to maintain the parity of the money of the United States; Mr. Moody, Massachusetts, for the protection of colored citizens against lynching, in default of State protection; Mr. Henry, Texas, to prevent combinations in restraint of trade.

At 4:30 the House adjourned.

The United States naval court at Tutuila, Samoa, has honorably acquitted Captain Benjamin F. Tilley, the naval governor of Tutuila, of all the charges against him. No evidence to sustain these charges was presented to the court.

CHARLESTON'S EXPOSITION FORMALLY OPENED.

Imposing Ceremonies—Thousands of Visitors—Words of Greeting From President Roosevelt.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 2.—With imposing ceremonies, embracing a parade of Federal forces, and State militia, Confederate veterans, beautiful women and cheering collegians, a programme of exercises graced by distinguished speakers and with words of greeting from the President of the United States, the South Carolina, Inter-State and West Indian Exposition was officially opened this afternoon. Conservative Charleston and its thousands of visitors thronged the historic old town from early morning, cheered the artillerymen from the batteries in the harbor, threw flowers at the old veterans and the ladies occupying carriages in the parade, and gave enthusiastic welcome to the invited guests. The day was set aside as a holiday and all places of business were closed.

In the auditorium at the Exposition grounds, where to-day's exercises were held, an audience of four thousand people cheered the name of the President of the United States, gave hearty applause to Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, the orator of the day, listened attentively to the afternoon's exercises, and then joined the crowds inspecting the grounds and marvelled at the audacity of Charleston in undertaking an exposition of such magnitude.

A glorious Southern sun shed its warm rays on the thousands of visitors all the morning and in the evening a generous shower baptized Charleston and her Exposition.

About three hundred people, including the Governor of South Carolina and staff, the officers of the Exposition, the board of lady managers and the city council of Charleston were on the stage of the beautifully decorated auditorium when the exercises began. Senator Depew, on entering, was given an ovation by the audience, the cheering continuing for several minutes. After welcoming addresses by F. A. Wagner, president of the Exposition Company, and Gov. M. B. McSweeney, Senator Depew was introduced by J. Adger Smith, mayor of Charleston. The acoustic properties of the auditorium are splendid and Mr. Depew was never in better voice.

Then followed the exchange of greetings between President Roosevelt and Mr. Wagner, and the Exposition on a signal from the White House was declared open.

The fair, while not as large as other expositions that have been given, is an exhibition of much merit and is already an artistic success.

The Exposition is not in the state of preparedness, however, which its projectors had hoped for. There have been delays which all similar enterprises have encountered, but the chief deterrent factor in the installation of exhibits was the scarcity of cars to transport them here. Between two and three hundred cars of exhibits are on the tracks at the park, but they are rapidly being unloaded and put in place by an army of men working twenty-four hours a day.

The principal object of the Exposition is to make a full representative display of the manufacturing progress and commercial possibilities of the country, and particularly of the Southern States. A commercial problem at this time confronts the South and perhaps the supreme purpose of the fair is to solve it.

The great advance in the number of cotton mills constructed and the output of finished products has created a surplus of cotton goods. Of this product China was at one time the largest consumer, outside of the home markets. The recent disturbance in that country, however, has virtually paralyzed the markets and the home surplus multiplies. The principal undeveloped markets in close touch with the South are in the West Indies and it is hoped through the medium of full displays at the Exposition to establish trade relations with that part of the world.

The Exposition site occupies about 160 acres of land on the bank of the Ashley with a frontage of 2,000 feet on the river. The architecture of the buildings follows closely the styles which were introduced at the Chicago World's Fair.

There are eleven great departmental buildings:

The cotton and commerce palaces, the hall of agriculture, minerals and forestry buildings and structures devoted to woman, art, the negro, transportation and machinery.

LIVERPOOL BANK ROBBERY.

Capture of the Book-Keeper Who Disappeared When Discovery of the Robbery Was Made.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Thomas Paterson Goudie, the book-keeper of the Bank of Liverpool, who disappeared at the time of the discovery that the bank had been robbed of about £170,000, was captured to-day at Bootle, where he had been in hiding. Goudie had £300 in his pocket when arrested. He will be brought to London for trial with the other men taken into custody in connection with the robbery, two of whom, "Dick" Burge, the pugilist, and F. T. Kelly, of Bradford, were remanded to-day after a partial hearing of the evidence against them.

Charles Matthews, counsel for the victimized bank, in presenting the case against the prisoners, gave the first authentic details of the frauds. He explained that there had been twenty-seven checks forged. The first two affected Goudie. The next twelve, representing in value £25,800, would be mainly traced to Kelly. Another seven checks aggregating £53,000, would be first traced to Kelly and afterward to Kelly and another person not yet before the court. Six other checks, valued at £91,000, would be traced, first to Laurie Marks, who paid them into his bank account. But some of the proceeds were also traceable to Burge. The whole amount had been drawn out of the Bank of Liverpool by checks drawn to the account of R. W. Hudson.

THE LONGSHOREMEN.

International Association Extending Its Workings—The Color Line.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CLEVELAND, O., December 2.—Secretary Barter, of the International Longshoreman's Association, said to-night that since the meeting in July forty-five locals have been added to the International Longshoreman's Association, including the principal shipping points in California and of the Atlantic coast, taking in New Orleans and the gulf. In the South, he said, for the first time the color line had been satisfactorily arranged by the longshoremen, by which the whites and negroes on the docks have entered into a perpetual agreement as to the division of labor.

TERRITORY OF UNITED STATES.

U. S. Supreme Court Decision Involving Relationship of the Philippine Islands.

THE DIAMOND RINGS CASE.

Court Held That the Paris Treaty Made the Philippines American Territory and That the Rings Therefore Were Exempt From Duty.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Opinions were rendered in the United States Supreme Court to-day in the last two of the insular test cases. One of them was that known as "The Fourteen Diamond Rings" case, involving the relationship of the United States to the Philippine islands from a tariff point of view, and the other what is known as the Dooley case No. 2, involving the constitutionality of the collection of duty on goods shipped from New York to Porto Rico.

In the former case, the court, through Chief Justice Fuller, held that the diamond rings brought in from the Philippines and over which the case arose should have been exempt from duty under the Paris Treaty of Peace, as that treaty made the Philippines American territory. The decision in the Philippine case followed closely that of the first Porto Rican case of the last term.

In the Dooley case, decided to day, it was held that the duty collected on goods carried from New York to Porto Rico was permissible, but it was in reality a tax for the benefit of the Porto Ricans themselves rather than an export duty, which was claimed by the merchants who antagonized the government in the case.

In both cases there were dissenting opinions, concurred in by four of the nine justices of the court.

It is generally believed that the finding in the Philippine case will lead to early efforts to secure legislation for the regulation of our commercial relations with those islands. As the Porto Rican opinion sustains the constitutionality of the Foraker act, no such necessity will arise with reference to Porto Rico.

Chief Justice Fuller, in the Diamond Ring case, quoted somewhat extensively from the opinion of the court in the case of De Lima vs. Bidwell. His principal quotation from the case was the paragraph setting forth the theory that a country remains foreign with respect to the tariff laws until Congress has acted by embracing it within the customs. The opinion then continued as follows:

Territory of the United States.

"No reason is perceived for any different ruling as to the Philippines. By the third article of the treaty Spain ceded to the United States the archipelago known as the Philippine islands. The Philippines thereby ceased in the language of the treaty 'to be Spanish.' Ceasing to be Spanish, they ceased to be foreign country. They came under the complete and absolute sovereignty and dominion of the United States and so became territory of the United States over which civil government could be established. The result was the same although there was no stipulation that the native inhabitants should be incorporated into the body politic, and none securing to them the right to choose their nationality. Their allegiance became due to the United States and they became entitled to its protection.

"But it is said that the case of the Philippines is to be distinguished from that of Porto Rico because, on February 14th, 1899, after the ratification of the treaty, the Senate resolved that by the ratification of the treaty of peace with Spain it is not intended to incorporate the inhabitants of the Philippine islands into citizenship of the United States, etc., nor to permanently annex those islands."

This resolution the court regards as "absolutely without legal significance on the question before us. The meaning of the treaty cannot be controlled by subsequent explanations of some of those who may have voted to ratify it.

"It is further contended that a distinction exists in that while complete possession of Porto Rico was taken by the United States, this was not so as to the Philippines because of the armed resistance of the native inhabitants to a greater or less extent.

"We must decline to assume that the government wishes thus to disparage the title of the United States or to place itself in the position of waging a war for conquest."

"The sovereignty of Spain over the Philippines and possession under claim of title had existed for a long series of years prior to the war with the United States. She granted the islands to the United States and the grantee in accepting them took nothing less than the whole grant. If those in insurrection against Spain continued in insurrection against the United States, the legal title and possession of the latter remained unaffected.

"We do not understand that it is claimed that in carrying on the pending hostilities the government is seeking to subjugate the people of a foreign country; but, on the contrary, that it is preserving order and suppressing insurrection in territory of the United States. It follows that the possession of the United States is adequate possession under legal title, and this cannot be asserted for one purpose and denied for another."

The chief justice concluded his opinion by reversing the decision of the court below. Justice Brown read an opinion concurring in the result, but differing from the conclusions drawn on minor points. Justices Gray, Shiras, White and McKenna dissented, but filed no written statement.
